

BABY WAS PET OF THE SHIP

Three-Year-Old Boy, on Way From Italy to Mother in America, Receives Good Care.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—On the Italian steamship Citta di Milano, which arrived today from Genoa, and Naples, was a three-year-old boy, who, as a stowaway, ever brought into port.

All the way from Naples came the little fellow, and when it was found that a mother and grandmother were here awaiting him he was quickly delivered to them by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island.

Although in charge of the stowaway, the ship, Cesare was a stowaway be lie name did not appear on the manifest of the ship's passengers. His presence had been paid on a ship of the same line two weeks before and his name was booked. Although at the last moment relatives in Italy decided that he would not come.

When the ship warped into her berth today the anxious mother and her boy held aloft in the arms of a friendly passenger.

Both the mother and grandmother wept for joy. As the mother could not understand English the grandmother went with the little fellow to Ellis Island to watch for its care.

On the piazza across Cesare's way of the 50 passengers on the ship. Cesare was out of their sight as they gave him their silver pieces. Cesare was as they had brought with him. Cesare was as they had brought with him. Cesare was as they had brought with him.

Prescription No. 101 by Elmer & Amend will cure all complaints, but it will cure all complaints.

1903 TO MAKE OF NEW ST. LOUIS A CITY BEAUTIFUL

Great Public Improvements
Promised This Year.

FAIR BUILT, NEW STREETS

INTERESTS OF EDUCATION AND LABOR WILL BE ADVANCED.

Better Terminal Service, More and Safer Street Cars, Increased Light and Power Supply and Era of Building Predicted.

MOST IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1903.

- ♦ Main World's Fair buildings completed.
- ♦ Sixty miles of street construction.
- ♦ No passenger tunnel, better terminal service.
- ♦ New City Hospital.
- ♦ New buildings for paupers and insane.
- ♦ New Four Courts building.
- ♦ Three new fire engine houses.
- ♦ City Hall completed.
- ♦ New postoffice commenced.
- ♦ Pneumatic tube postal service.
- ♦ More street cars, better brakes and fenders.
- ♦ New gas tank, capacity 4,000,000 cubic feet.
- ♦ New electric power house.
- ♦ Two new High Schools.
- ♦ New public school buildings.
- ♦ Further advance in labor wage scale.

What will the year 1903 bring to New St. Louis?

Those who make plans for the public and carry them out say that the year will be the most prosperous and progressive the city has known.

The completion of the World's Fair, the rebuilding of city streets and sewers, better transportation service, higher wages for labor, an unparalleled era of building, increases of real estate values, more hotels, greater postal facilities and more schools are among the things which they promise.

Interviews with persons most familiar with all branches of public service have been obtained exclusively by the Post-Dispatch, and are given as indications of the progress which citizens may expect in the coming year.

Municipal Progress

BY MAYOR ROLLA WELLS.

Very early in the new year a bill will be introduced into the Municipal Assembly providing for a special election, at which the voters will be asked to authorize a new issue of $5,000,000 for municipal improvements.

On the action taken on this proposition will depend the city's progress in public work during 1903.

With the increased resources which the bond issue, if authorized by the voters, will supply, the new City Hospital will be completed, new structures will be provided for the Insane Asylum, Poorhouse and Female Hospital and the King's highway bridge, needed as a connecting link of our park system, may be commenced. Public sewers will be built, and delay in the reconstruction of streets on which the city owns property will cease.

The ordinance providing for the election is now in the hands of the city council and the comptroller. If it is passed promptly by the Council and House, the election can be held in a few weeks and the necessary facilities attending the sale of the bonds can be finished early in the spring, making the money available by the time the building season opens.

In some cases the money expended would be repaid with interest in actual saving to the city. The rent which the city is now paying for the temporary City Hospital, the expense of maintaining city insane patients at outside institutions and the damage suits which follow every heavy freshet owing to the inadequacy of our sewers are instances of present waste.

The movement for a new city charter, which will probably take definite form this year, is timely, I believe, however, that the bond issue is more urgent. We can get along with the old charter better than we can do without money for new buildings and sewers.

Important measures are now in the Municipal Assembly, among them the bill for public bathhouses, which it is planned to build in time for use next summer. I am convinced that the bond issue, which will work a hardship on no one, is the best investment which the citizens of St. Louis can make in the new year. I believe that the greatly increased public spirit which has been shown in the past year will move voters to take advantage of this opportunity to insure municipal progress and proper preparation for the World's Fair.

BY COMPTROLLER FLAHERTY.

For the year 1903 a number of municipal improvements have been planned, and will in all probability be carried out. Among these are the following:

The extension and perfection of the block patrol system of street cleaning.

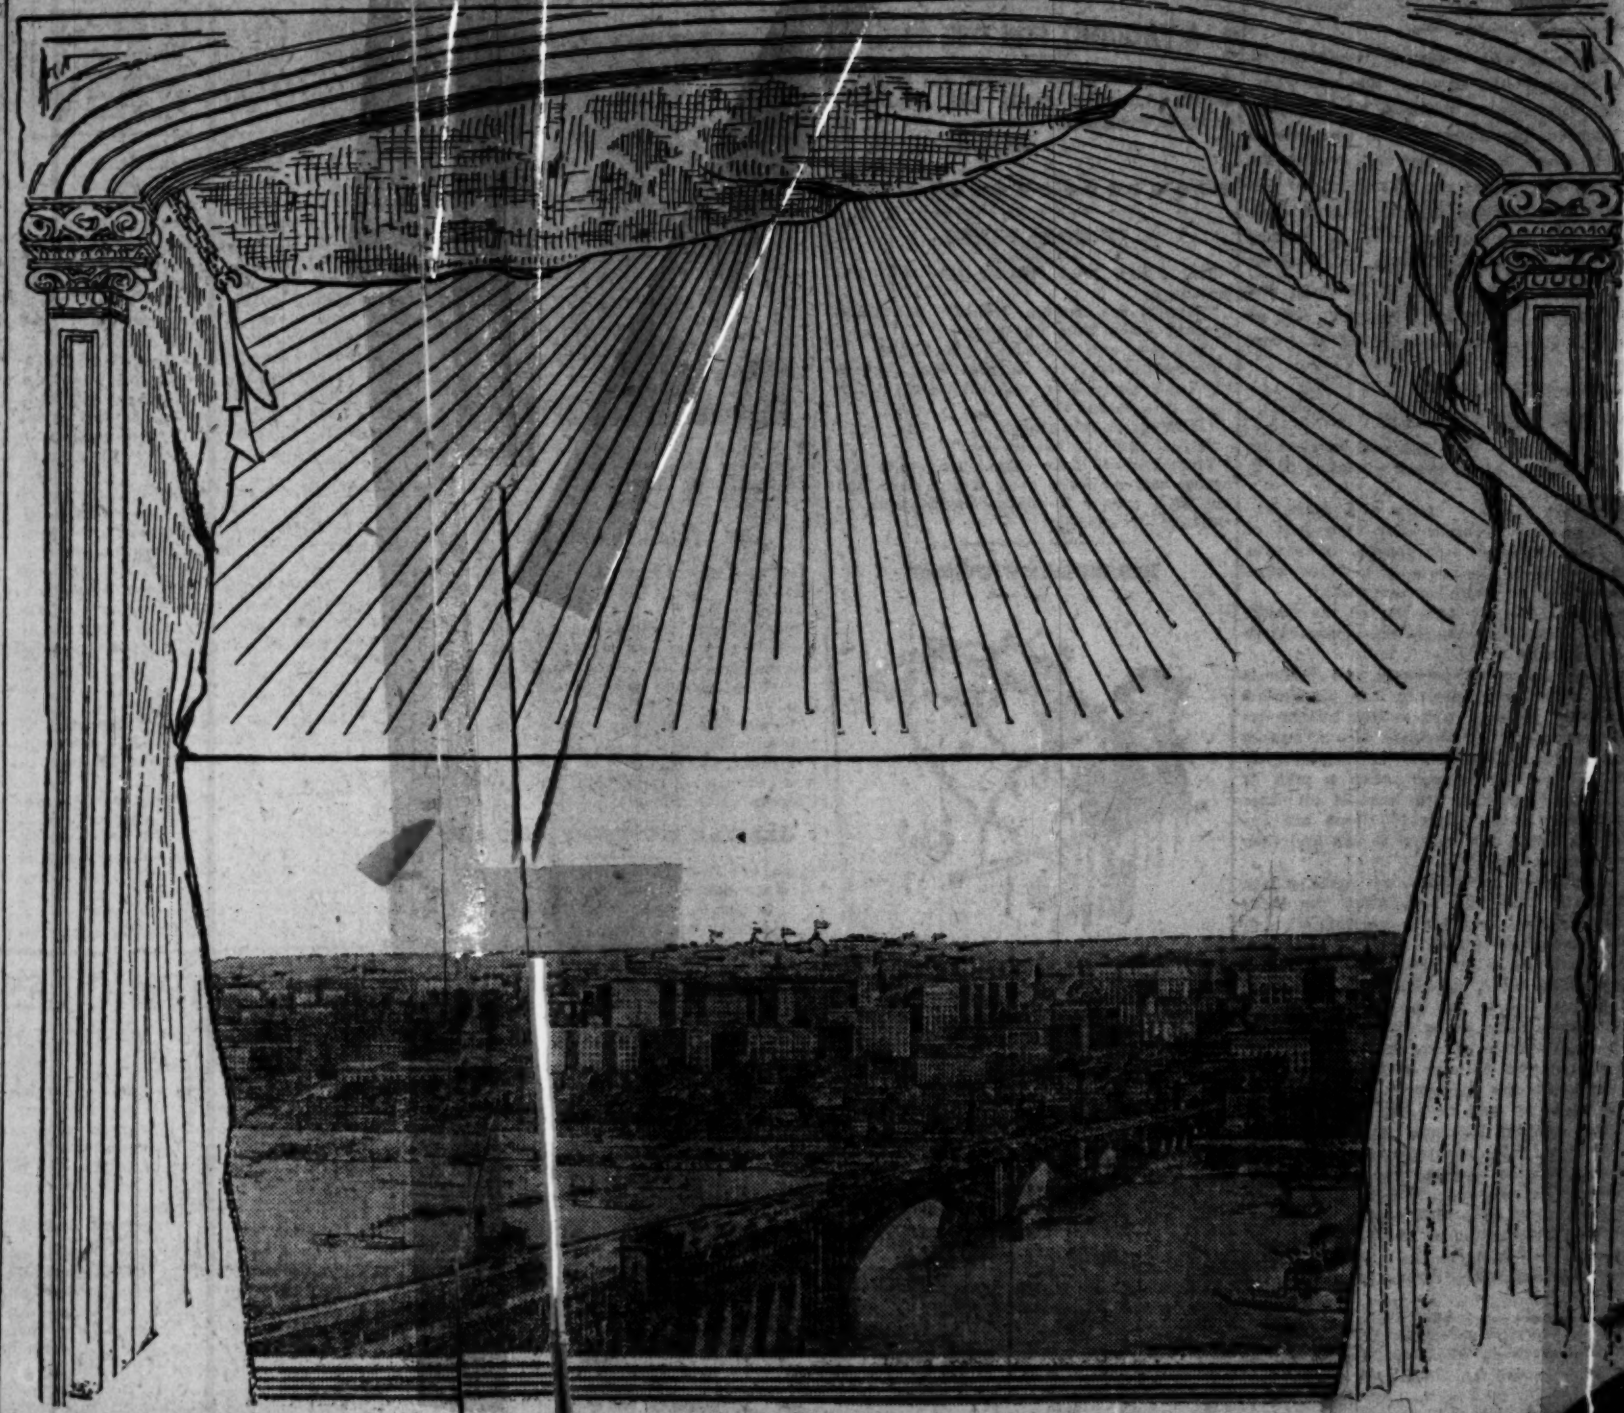

The inauguration of a system of rubbish boxes in the downtown streets, probably as far west as Grand avenue.

Five new public bathhouses.

An addition to the poorhouse for insane patients.

A municipal electric lighting plant at the City Hall to supply the city's downtown buildings, and another at the poorhouse to supply the institutions in that neighborhood.

Three new fire engine houses, possibly five, one in the vicinity of Eleventh street and Washington avenue, another in the vicinity of Delmar avenue and King's highway and another in the vicinity of Manchester avenue and King's highway. If the other five are built out will be in St. Louis and one possibly at Grand and Case avenues.

WORLD'S FAIR
COMPLETED
60 MILES OF NEW STREETS
NEW PUBLIC BUILDINGS
HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS
DOUBLED.
MORE & SAFER STREET
CARS.
NEW CITY CHARTER.
PUBLIC BATH HOUSES.
NEW BOULEVARDS
KING'S HIGHWAY BRIDGE
NEW POSTOFFICE.
QUICKER MAIL DELIVERY.
MORE LIGHT AND POWER.
CLEAN STREETS.
HIGHER WAGES FOR LABOR.
MORE SCHOOL BUILD-INGS.

St. Louis and one possibly at Grand and Case avenues.

Extension and improvement of the sewer system to the extent of $300,000. A sewer will be built in the Cabanne district and one in Cheltenham. The sewer improvement plans also call for work from Thirtieth and Olive to Fourteenth and Locust, from Twentieth and O'Fallon to Twenty-second and Mullanphy, from Compton and Clark to Channing and Olive streets, and along Manchester avenue in Rock Springs.

City Streets

BY CHARLES VARRELMANN.

Street Commissioner.

Our department expects to improve or construct from 50 to 60 miles of street during the year. If legal obstacles are not placed in our way.

Our desire is to get as much work as possible under contract at once so that the contractors can get started early in the spring. Last year, owing to the delay in putting the charter amendments into effect, the contractors did not get to work until August, and we will only finish 12 or 15 miles of street this fiscal year.

The Post-Dispatch has already printed a complete list of the streets we plan to improve. There is nothing that can be said about them in addition.

Terminal Facilities

BY W. S. MCHESNEY.

General Manager, St. Louis Terminal Association.

By July, 1903, the Terminal Association will complete and put in operation the best line, connecting the northern half of the city. It will be the section of an elevated depot track loop, connecting the Deane and Merchants bridges. This will cost $1,000,000.

It will construct a subway from Eighteenth to Twentieth street under Clark avenue. This will be 100 feet long and as wide as the Union Station train sheds—that is, about 100 feet.

It will build five new buildings to be used to handle now close to the city, which will be a subway. It will also build 20 additional miles of street leading to Union Station. Nearly all these tracks will be at the yards along Atlantic street.

At Twenty-third street, a new station will be built, and at Twenty-fifth street, a new station will be built, and at Twenty-seventh street, a new station will be built.

At Twenty-ninth street, a new station will be built, and at Thirtieth street, a new station will be built, and at Thirty-second street, a new station will be built.

At Thirty-fourth street, a new station will be built, and at Thirty-sixth street, a new station will be built, and at Thirty-eighth street, a new station will be built.

At Fortyth street, a new station will be built, and at Forty-second street, a new station will be built, and at Forty-fourth street, a new station will be built.

At Forty-sixth street, a new station will be built, and at Forty-eighth street, a new station will be built, and at Fiftieth street, a new station will be built.

At Fifty-second street, a new station will be built, and at Fifty-fourth street, a new station will be built, and at Fifty-sixth street, a new station will be built.

At Fifty-eighth street, a new station will be built, and at Sixtieth street, a new station will be built, and at Sixty-second street, a new station will be built.

At Sixty-fourth street, a new station will be built, and at Sixty-sixth street, a new station will be built, and at Sixty-eighth street, a new station will be built.

At Seventieth street, a new station will be built, and at Seventy-second street, a new station will be built, and at Seventy-fourth street, a new station will be built.

At Seventy-sixth street, a new station will be built, and at Seventy-eighth street, a new station will be built, and at Eightieth street, a new station will be built.

The Terminal Association expects to improve or construct from 50 to 60 miles of street during the year. If legal obstacles are not placed in our way.

Our desire is to get as much work as possible under contract at once so that the contractors can get started early in the spring. Last year, owing to the delay in putting the charter amendments into effect, the contractors did not get to work until August, and we will only finish 12 or 15 miles of street this fiscal year.

The Post-Dispatch has already printed a complete list of the streets we plan to improve. There is nothing that can be said about them in addition.

architectural construction that will form the terrace of the states, and with this the two large parodia restaurants on top of Art Hill.

Besides that also has been let all the lagoon work, which today is nearly finished; also all the constructive work for the hanging gardens and Cascade Hill.

I have today the drawings for the Agricultural building finished so far as the designs go, and next week these will be turned over to the constructive department to let out.

The Horticultural building is being designed.

The foregoing will constitute the eleven main Exposition palaces.

Several of these main buildings are now on the verge of completion, and as an earnest that the others will be finished by or before Jan. 1, 1904, I need only say that the contractors are under bonds to forfeit $300 a day if their work is not completed by Dec. 1; some of them must complete the work by Aug. 1 or pay the daily forfeit.

MUCH TO BE DONE.

"Having this work in the condition that it is, I have no apprehension of being unable to finish all the constructive portion of the Exposition during 1903.

"There is a vast amount of work to be done, but it is so well in hand that the finishing touches that are required in the designing department of the division of works can be readily and expeditiously placed upon the same.

"To the department of sculpture has been assigned a head, and that of mural decorations is now well under way for formation. These two departments will be the last in the division of works to apply the finishing and artistic touches to the great main picture.

"A great deal of engineering work is yet to be done, such as the intramural communication, the settling of the question of the numerous entrances to the Fair, and the making of harmonious arrangements with the steam railroads to deliver passengers to the site.

"The details of stock pavilions, cattle sheds, stock arenas and many works of similar nature will be taken up immediately and fully developed.

"The landscape department is now deep in the work of designing landscapes, sunken gardens, and the treatment in general of the vast extent of the site that will be the site of the Exposition.

"In the spring of 1904 some new paint will be needed to touch up the structures while the exhibitors are placing their wares. Otherwise than the application of the paint, and the cleaning of the grounds, there is nothing more to be done.

government will produce a replica of the Grand Trianon.

"Great interest has been shown by the building commissions appointed by the states. In the last two or three weeks from designs submitted it is most apparent that the structures to be put up by the states will surpass anything heretofore undertaken by individual states. This indicates that the states are fully prepared, and, as these buildings are such as may be constructed easily in one season without going over a winter, there is hardly any room for doubt that the state buildings will be finished by next New Year's day.

"I should say that the World's Fair, as to physical features, is now from 75 to 80 per cent finished.

"The preparation of the grounds for the Philippine exhibits and for the troops of the various nations will be but a small work.

"By the middle of the coming summer we expect to have the inner loop of the intramural railway finished and in operation for the accommodation of the visitors to the site.

"By next New Year's the public can pay the 25 cents admission, which we will charge from the time the fence is built, about next March; and see the World's Fair, practically complete except exhibits. The water will be turned into the lagoons, the cascades will flow, the landscape features will have had a season's growth to solidify and the towers and domes and minarets of the great picture will point skyward, and beneath them will be the mighty palaces, beautiful with classic statuary, with staff and paint applied.

GOOD ROLLING IN MOUND CITY LEAGUETHE
HAMMER COLUMN

After combing the confetti out of our hair on arising this morning, trying the cold water cure for the overstrained bearings of our interior economy, and removing relics of the dead year from our person, we were surprised to find in ourselves and things in general a surprising want of novelty.

We and the world had agreed to turn over a new leaf beginning this morning, and had rather expected to see signs of high purpose in ourselves and our environment.

We don't undertake to pass upon the appearance of the world, but for ourselves we will say that the general effect was that of not having been in training long enough to keep up a successful observance of the new resolutions—impression which became a reality at the first dawn of the day.

We understand that the only branch of the social community which has not followed from the same feeling of instability and resolution and gastric action, is the bowling body, the sports.

We have made no resolutions for the new year, and have no fear of tripping up, wouldn't give them up.

COCKED-HAT TEAMS
BOWLED YEAR OUTBlue Ribbons Beat Rialtos by Banner Work of Evening.

Several cocked-hat leagues saw the old year pass on the alleys last night. Match-ers were rolled in the Mound City and Merchants' organizations, and considering the occasion, excellent contests resulted in both.

The banner rolling of the evening turned up in the match between the Blue Ribbons and Rialtos of the Mound City League. The Ribbons captured four of the five games played, but had to roll a 23 average to do it. The winning aggregation, with one exception, all averaged above 50, Miller leading above 57.

The Consumers did not have to move so rapidly to take four from the Spencers of the same organization. Only two men of the 50 engaged in this match passed the 50 average mark, but then the contest was not bowled on the Acme alleys.

Good and bad bowling resulted from the matches in the Merchants' League. The Ribbons and the Cote Brillantes put up a fairly fast exhibition on Puentes' alleys, but the most part the averages were low. Following are last night's scores in the different leagues:

THE GIFT OF A TAINTED
ANCESTRY.

Only a constitutional remedy, one that works through the blood, can reach a disease that has been transmitted through generations or been lurking in the blood since birth.

S. S. S. cleanses the blood of all scrofulous matter and tubercular deposits, and when rich, pure, health-sustaining blood is again flowing in the veins there is a gradual disappearance of all the dangerous symptoms of Scrofula; strength and vigor return, and a complete cure is effected.

S. S. S. contains no strong minerals to further break down and damage the system, but can be taken by the very old, as well as the middle aged and young, without any harmful effects, or the least injury to the most delicate constitution.

If you have any signs of Scrofula, or your children are stunted or slow of growth, pale and sickly, write us, and our physicians will advise you free of charge.

LADY LAWYER WON
FROM MR. NORTON

NEW ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY TELLS A STORY.

HE LOST A JUSTICE COURT CASE

Mrs. Mullens, whose husband was Defendant, Threw Legal Courtesy Out of the Window.

Bert D. Norton, who has just been appointed assistant United States attorney for the Eastern district of Missouri, with headquarters at St. Louis, had an experience in a justice's court in his home town of New Cambria, some years ago that falls to the lot of few attorneys.

His legal antagonist was a woman—large, fine-looking and thoroughly self-possessed. Norton was the attorney for the lady's father, P. A. Quinn, a sturdy old Missouri pioneer, who was suing his son-in-law, James Mullins, for an account of $267. The lady lawyer was Mrs. Alice Mullins, wife of the defendant and daughter of the plaintiff. She had no license to practice law save her good common sense and her indomitable spirit. A tremendous crowd witnessed the proceedings. In a small town every "law suit" attracts a crowd.

At first the spectators began sympathizing with the lone woman pitted against a "great strong man," well versed in the law. But it was soon apparent that their sympathies should go to the other fellow. With a sweep of her good right arm she knocked every legal rule that came in her way out the window. If the witnesses didn't answer to suit her, she would point her finger at them and tell them they didn't know anything about the case. The verdict went to the defendant, and the lady victor was loudly cheered.

Norton described this trial and his frustrated condition during it as follows: "I don't believe I was ever so badly scared up in a case before. I have been Mrs. Mullins employing a lawyer, but she said she could make the jury understand it all. She said she would write out a proposition to each witness, and she never shut up until she got a straight answer. One of the questions for her husband was:

"Did you ever agree to give Quinn's always referred to her father as Quinn—this for Quinn nature, she began by telling the jury her father had made her stay by the age of 15; how she had to work to earn money to help educate and clothe the younger children and her struggles to obtain her own education. I saw a couple of hundred dollars slide off from our verdict in that speech when I looked at the jury, and I knew that much she was telling me truth."

"I don't think I ever went to run against a woman lawyer again. I like to try a case vigorously and any time."

ROOSTERS ALSO BOXED.

Sparring Contests Feature at the Poultry Show.

Sparring bouts between game cocks with muffled spurs were again the feature of the poultry show at Armory Hall last night.

The opening affair was a three-round match between H. Heidemann's Dominick and W. Henderson's Black Red, the former winning by three points.

Heidemann again scored in the three-round match between his Dominick and Sadler and Deakin's Black Stag, the former bird scoring 7 points to his opponent's 6.

W. H. Thompson's Black Red again went on in the last bout and defeated Sadler & Deakin's Grey Frie.

Hiccoughs and pains in the stomach, relieved immediately by Sulphogen.

SULLIVAN WON
FROM EDDIE TOYOutpointed His Opponent in 20-Round Bout at West End Club.

Referee Harry Sharpe cared to follow the strict letter of the Marquis of Queensberry rules and thereby probably displeased a crowded house at the West End Club last night, he might have ended the fight between Eddie Toy and Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan more than once during the 20 rounds of its course by declaring it forfeited on a foul.

At half a dozen times Sharpe was compelled to warn Toy to cease foul dealing, while Tommy Sullivan goaded by rough work of his opponent himself incurred the displeasure of the referee.

Toy's tactics were to hold and hit, to fight with his elbow and appear the heel of his glove over Sullivan's mouth and nose at all stages of the battle.

Sullivan attempted to play horse with his opponent gained him nothing except a little worse than he sent. No serious injury was done by the fouls and Referee Sharpe thought it better to let the fight continue and call the infractions of the rules a stand-off.

After 20 rounds he gave Sullivan a merited decision. The Brooklyn boy fought a careful, clever fight, and showed himself a superior. He won the fight by virtue of his hands to Toy's one and by his aggressiveness.

SULLIVAN IMPROVED.

Backing around the ring for 20 rounds Toy jabbed his opponent occasionally. He started out well and played about even for 8 or 10 rounds. By that time Sullivan had solved every angle of his opponent's tricks and went in to do business.

The condition of Toy's face at the close testified to the success of his efforts in this particular. Toy was cut on the eye, his nose was bleeding and a red spot over his kidney testified to the power behind the hammer swings that Sullivan landed on his back.

Repeated bad breaks by Toy roused Sullivan's wrath and in the seventh round he very nearly lost another fight on a foul through sagacity.

Rushing Toy across the ring, he batted him into the ropes, where Toy hung completely off his balance, and with but one toe on the floor. With the open stomach in front of him, Sullivan dashed in a right that hurt sore and scared the Brooklyn man a caution. Toy took it gamely after a rapid glance at the referee.

The fight was slow after the sixth round, when it became apparent that the resources of both men had been exhausted. Both were clever on defense and the wariness of each kept both out of mix-up. There was not a time in the fight when either man was groggy or at all in danger, though Toy presented a sorry appearance because of the blood streaming down his face.

Sharpe's decision pleased the crowd. In the preliminary Tommy Coby was sent against Joe Sherlock of Chicago, who acted as substitute for Young Scotty. The latter was unable to appear and Sherlock went on with one day's training.

He showed well in the first four rounds, but after that was too tired to do any fighting. Coby banged him about the ring at will and the decision given him was probably seen in a bout with the winner of the main event last evening.

FAVORS JUVENILE COURT.

Dr. E. C. Runge Urges Passage of Proposed Law.

In the preliminary Tommy Coby was sent against Joe Sherlock of Chicago, who acted as substitute for Young Scotty. The latter was unable to appear and Sherlock went on with one day's training.

He showed well in the first four rounds, but after that was too tired to do any fighting. Coby banged him about the ring at will and the decision given him was probably seen in a bout with the winner of the main event last evening.

Dr. Edward C. Runge, president of the Missouri Conference of Charities and Corrections and superintendent of the St. Louis Insane Asylum, has come out strongly as a champion of the proposed law establishing a juvenile court.

Dr. Runge holds that there is no sociological problem which ranks in importance with that one embracing the delinquent and dependent child. He says the law aims at the welfare of the individual child and is keeping with the advanced view of the state's function by going to the root of the evil.

Book of Clerical Biography.
"The Servants of God," an elaborately illustrated book of biographies of the Catholic priests of St. Louis, together with exterior and interior views of St. Louis' most notable houses of worship, is now in preparation by the Rev. Father John J. Tully, a holiday season by Maj. Frank R. Bigney. The book will contain more than 100 portraits of more than 100 priests of the archdiocese of St. Louis.

NEW WABASH BUILDING.

Railroad Company Will Erect Cold Storage Structure.

The Wabash Railroad Co. will erect an immense cold storage plant in connection with about 40 stores on the east side of Third street between Franklin avenue and Carr street, beginning construction in the spring. The store will be 25 by 60 feet and will be rented to commission merchants, the structure taking in the entire frontage of 80 feet. The building will be three stories high, of handsome architecture and built of stone, steel and brick.

Oratorio to Be Sung.—The choir of the Church of the Holy Communion, an oratorio, under the direction of Alfred G. Robyn, will render the oratorio "The Story of Bethlehem" at the church tonight. The oratorio will be sung in French Sunday morning and celebrate the holy communion.

MARRIAGE WITHOUT WORDS.

Justice Cronin United Deaf Mutes by Gesture Ceremony.

Two deaf mutes, Clarence A. Corry and Louisa Volmer, were married by Justice of the Peace James H. Cronin yesterday afternoon.

The ceremony consisted wholly of gestures. Magistrate Cronin pointed to the names of the marriage license and then to the persons contracting the marriage. The principals understood perfectly what was required of them, and when Justice Cronin took hold of their hands and joined them together he pronounced them man and wife.

Miss Volmer has been living at 225 South Ninth street. She was educated in the school for the Deaf and Dumb at Annapolis, Md. The bridegroom is a printer, who obtained his education at Jacksonville, Fla.

DUNN'S FATE IS IN DOUBT.

Friends Are Working to Save Condemned Negro.

The friends of Thomas Dunn, the negro sentenced to be hanged tomorrow morning, are working diligently in the endeavor to have Gov. Dockery grant a reprieve. They say they will not give up their efforts until the last minute and will continue to plead for the int. sentence of the executive until the end of the year.

Dunn will be hanged at 9 o'clock, unless the governor interposes, on the scaffold in the jail yard. He was convicted of killing Peter Jackson, another negro.

WHAT THE MODEL WILL DO
IN JANUARY

The immense success that has come to this store during its first season is a most gratifying indorsement of the modern plan of merchandising which governs this business.

The Model plan, briefly stated, is giving the people the best clothing in all grades that money will buy, selling at an unusually small margin of profit, and standing by a broad guarantee of complete satisfaction—or, as we state it, "Your Money's Worth or Money Back."

Regarding the after-season selling that begins here Saturday we have this to say: The Model's policy will be to start every season with new goods. To that end the remainder of all lines of Winter merchandise must be disposed of at once. We fully realize that extraordinary inducements are necessary to prove a revelation to the clothing buyers of Greater St. Louis.

The news of our January selling will be given in full in Friday and Saturday papers. It will prove of interest to every clothing buyer. It will show that The Model is frank, truthful and thoroughly modern in its after-season selling, as it is at all other times.

NEWS IN NEARBY CITIES

EAST SIDE CITIES SHARE PROGRESS

THEIR MAYORS EXPECT GREAT GROWTH IN 1933

THIRD BRIDGE HOPED FOR

East St. Louis May Reach Fifty Thousand Mark and Get Factories—Belleville Public Work.

Progress in 1933 will be not be confined to the World's Fair City or to the west side of the Mississippi. The mayors of East St. Louis and Belleville anticipate that their cities will take rapid strides in the coming year, and that municipal improvements and enlargements of facilities for public service will be general.

Work now in progress which will be finished this year, in many instances places these expectations in the realm of certainty.

BY MAYOR M. M. STEPHENS of East St. Louis.

In 1933 the population of East St. Louis will, in all likelihood, increase to 50,000. The material increase, coupled with the fact that from six to a dozen large new industrial plants will be located in the city during the year, will give the city a new impetus.

From six to ten miles of streets will be paved with brick. Paved for a number of these improvements are now before the council or in court. The improvement of the Rock road, which has been begun, will be completed.

The electric railway system will be extended in several directions. The gas and water mains will be extended into outlying districts. The gas company has expended a million dollars during 1932 for improvements, only part of which have been installed.

It is probable that important progress will be made in the extension of East St. Louis and Belleville by gas and water mains as well as by electric lines. The construction of a new police station of the most modern type, near the site of the present station, will be begun if favorable action is taken by St. Louis.

BY MAYOR A. S. HALSTEAD of Belleville.

During 1933 there is every probability that the Belleville public square will be paved. It may also be beautified by a fountain, a monument or a fountain in the center. Illinois street, from Second street to the Illinois Central, and the right of way of the Rock road, from Main street to Fifth street, will probably be paved.

It is expected that a new era of improvements will be inaugurated by effecting a change in the manner of assessing the cost of street improvements.

A sewer will be laid from the western city limits to Richland creek along West Main street.

It is probable that a general sewer system, which has been under consideration for some time, will be completed. The system will include a sewer along the course of Richland creek and the right of way of the Illinois Central, and another through the eastern part of the city, the sewer to intersect the city limits, where the existing basins will be erected.
